

The Marble Man

an exhibition and performance by David Bernstein
3–7 July 2013

Part of Sandberg Institute graduation show, “The Festival of Choices 2013”

Performance Friday 5th July at 7.30pm

I was gaping at it, I was motionless, I was getting a bit hungry, but still couldn't look away. Daphne's face was screaming and what could I do? Marble garble, flesh confess, get the wood good. Oh my gouda kaas, ola margarita, maybe I should make my spatula out of marble instead of wood.

The performance will be the first part of an evening program with the exhibition of Jurgis Paškevičius and The Bible Performance by jugedamos.
